Wordsies Wear Shirts

Say it without saying a word!

As a new mom, one of the most awkward moments is when a complete stranger reaches for your baby and tickles or touches her without your permission. It's not that you're worried about your baby getting hurt, but where have those strange hands been before touching your most prized possession? Now you can defend your baby with Wordsies, an adorable and insightful line of onesies and t-shirts created to educate appropriate behaviors, without having to insult anyone!

Wordsies say what you're thinking like, "Got Clean Hands?" or "Please Don't Kiss My Lips," or "Look But Don't Touch." Our other favorites include, "Please Don't Smoke Near Me," and "If you can read this, you're too close!" Unfortunately we can't promise that strangers will abide by these posted rules and guidelines, but you'll surely get your point across and have less unnecessary touching! Made in the USA, Wordsies are 100% cotton and available in sizes 3 months – 24 months. And, a portion of all Wordsies profits are donated to the American SIDS Institute to aid in further research. You'll also love the Mommy Wear that reminds friends and family members, "My Baby, My Rules," "Mind Your Own Baby," and more.

Mom Tip: Babies need extra protection from germs and strangers. Wordsies are a first line of defense for new moms who don't want to seem over-protective but want the best for their babies.
